

Abstract

A wall fastener that attaches a wallboard member to a mounting track in a manner that allows for relative movement between an overhead roof structure to which the mounting track is secured and a non-load bearing wall. The wall fastener holds the 5 wallboard in a fixed position relative to the wall and the overhead structure to maintain a fire barrier.

